

NUMBER	PHOTO	NAME	DESCRIPTION	INFORMATION	SEED SOURCE
123		Costoluto Fiorentino	This selection comes from Florence and impresses with its early maturity of brilliant red tomatoes. Fruit are juicy and flavorful for slicing but really shine when slow-roasted or cooked down into a rich sauce. Performs well in both hot and cooler climates.	Indet 80 days 4 x ½ in OP Early Season	Tomato Fest
124		Grandma's Pick	Heirloom flavor with hybrid production, uniformity, and disease resistance. Attractive, large, squat, pleated fruit with striking orange/red on the shoulders that deepens to bright red at the bottom. Plants yield plentiful harvests of these robust, slightly sweet fruit with a rich, true tomato flavor. High lycopene content.	Indet 75–80 days 3.5 x 1.75 in Hybrid (F1) Mid-Season	Restoration
125		Pink Stuffer	As the name implies these tomatoes were bred to be stuffed with various goodies. The Pink Stuffer Tomato is large, pink, and elongated. Scalloped fruit are practically hollow inside. Try stuffing them with chicken salad or tabouli.	Indet 80-85 Days OP	Pinetree
126		Schimmeig Striped Hollow	Large hollow cavity is ideal for stuffing in summer salad dishes. Beautiful yellow- orange with light red streaks. Prefers dry climates, do not over water, trellis.	Indet 3-5 in OP Mid-Season	Restoration

NUMBER	PHOTO	NAME	DESCRIPTION	INFORMATION	SEED SOURCE
127		Tlacolula Ribbed	Red pink ribbed pear shaped Mexican heirloom, slightly hollow with occasional light green striping, few seeds. Similar to Zapotec Pink Pleated. Mild nutty sweet flavor.	Indet 80-90 days 8-12 oz OP Late Season
128		Zapotec	Prolific indeterminate, regular leaf plant producing large, deeply pleated, (almost triangular in shape) pink-red fruit, with a somewhat hollow interior and mild sweet flavors. Popular for baking, grilling or stuffing.	Indet 85 Days 10-16 oz OP Late Season	Tomato Fest